LOYAL SUPPORT GIVEN TO MANN

Strong Tucker Counties Voted for Straight Democratic Ticket.

REPUBLICAN FROM TENTH

Next House About Evenly Divided Between New and Old Members.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LOVINGSTON, VA., November 20.—Having performed their duty faithfully in the recent election, and rolled up handsome majorities for the nominees of their party, the Democrats of this great agricultural section of the State have gone back to their farms, to house corn, strip tobacco, and to prepare for pitching heavy crops next year.

According to predictions freely made in this correspondence prior to the election, Nelson and the surrounding counties, all of which went strongly for Tucker in the primary last summer, supported Judge Mann with the utmost loyalty, giving practically the same vote to all his running mates on the ticket. Approximately Highland and Botetourt are the three counties in the Tenth Congressional District which were carried by Judge Mann for the nomination, and the latter is the only one in this entire territory which was at all close in the general election. The official returns will show but a slight margin for either Kent or Mann, and judging from the facts that J. D. Eggleston lost the county by ten votes to his Republican opponent, Captain Brent, and that a Republican was elected to the House of Delegates, it would not be surprising if it should turn out that Captain Kent was carried for Governor.

Judge Mann carried Albemarle by over 700 majority, Amherst by over 600, Buckingham by 350, Augusta by over 600, and Nelson by 407.

In 1905 these same counties gave Swanson the following majorities over Lewis: Albemarle, 951; Amherst, 726; Buckingham, 160; Augusta, 372; and Nelson, 595. Taking everything into consideration, Judge Mann made a fine showing in these five counties, for an analysis of the above figures will demonstrate that though the vote was light throughout the State in the election this year, yet he fell less than 200 behind the present Governor in this territory.

The total vote in Nelson was less than 800, no election having been held at one precinct, but Judge Mann and his running mates got nearly all that were cast. Two precincts in the county gave solid votes for the entire Democratic ticket, no Republican having appeared to vote at either. After all the talk about Captain Brent, the Republican candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction being a native of Nelson, he ran behind the head of his ticket in the county. The official vote for Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration follows:

Mann, 570; Kent, 173; Eggleston, 592; Brent, 151; Kolner, 605; Robson, 140.

Captain George W. Whitehead, Democratic nominee for the House, had no opposition, and received nearly all the votes cast.

Out of a total membership of eleven, the Tenth District will send but one Republican to the new House, and he will be Mr. Hannah, of Botetourt, who defeated Judge G. W. Breckenridge. Mr. Hannah is said to be a man of fine business capacity, and very popular in his county. Botetourt has gotten to be almost as erratic in politics as some of the counties in the Southwest, and in recent years it is always hard to tell what she will do in advance of an election. The result in Botetourt keeps the political complexion of the Tenth District delegation unchanged, the standing being Democrats, 10; Republicans, 1.

In the present House, John G. Luce, a Republican, represents the counties of Goochland and Fluvanna, the latter lying in the Tenth and the former in the Third District.

The Democrats captured this seat in the recent election, the honor having fallen to S. M. Shepherd, a young lawyer of Fluvanna. Had they been able to hold Botetourt in line the old Tenth would have had a solid delegation in the lower branch of the General Assembly next winter.

By virtue of his long service in the House, N. E. Spessard, who has just been elected for his fourth term from the counties of Alleghany and Craig, becomes the dean of the Tenth District delegation, and owing to his high rank he is taken as a legislator, coupled with the fact that he has been such a general thumping of old members, it would not be surprising should the Speaker place him at the head of some important committee. Mr. Spessard is a prominent merchant at Newstead, a beautiful little town in the mountains of Craig, and for the past six years he has proven an invincible candidate for the Legislature in his district. At present he ranks third on the Finance Committee, and holds other important assignments.

For the first time in many years, Augusta and the city of Staunton send an entirely new delegation to the House. Since the last session Hon. John W. Churchman, long the chairman of the Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation, and several times a prominent candidate for the Speakership, succumbed to an attack of apoplexy, while his colleague, Major Silas H. Walker, was not returned. Mr. Churchman was chairman of the Democratic caucus, and his death will necessitate the election of some other member to this important position. Prominent leaders already mentioned for the honor are Captain W. W. Baker, of Goshensville, who now takes rank as the "Father of the House"; Hon. Merritt T. Cooke, of Norfolk, and Major J. N. Stubbs, of Gloucester.

A careful analysis of the returns from the legislative elections throughout the State reveals the remarkable fact that the next House will be about evenly divided between old and new members. The former will have a slight majority, while to this should be added those who have served in previous Houses, though not in the last one.

Helps Bowels in Old Age; Sample Free

It is a problem with many old people how to keep themselves in health. Their prime trouble is with the stomach and bowels. When these become deranged bad health follows, because one cannot be constipated and feel good. Keep the bowels open—no better advice can be given to any one, especially in old age. But it is well to know just what to take to relieve the distress. Those who speak from a long experience say that is best suited to the requirements of people of advancing age. These, like children and women, need a gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative, not a strong cathartic pill or a violent salt or purgative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is mild but promptly effective, and a guaranteed cure for chronic constipation, indigestion, drowsiness after eating, liver trouble, belching, sour stomach and the many other little ailments that follow a disordered stomach, liver or bowels. To convince any one of its merits before buying a bottle in the regular way of a druggist, Dr. Caldwell will send a sample bottle free of charge on receipt of name and address. Try it yourself in the free sample, and when sure it is the remedy you want, do as all others do, and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. The latter is for family use, and is bought by those who always keep it in the house, which thousands do.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels, absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample, simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the Doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 527 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

I will tell you how well I am pleased with Syrup Pepsin. I was down with diarrhoea for three months, and I tried the doctor, and he did me no good, and I tried other medicines without any relief. I then sent for a sample of your Syrup Pepsin, used it, and bought a 50-cent bottle and used about half of it. It cured me, and it also cured my little boy. You may print this letter if you like.—T. H. Marshall, Nall, Okla.

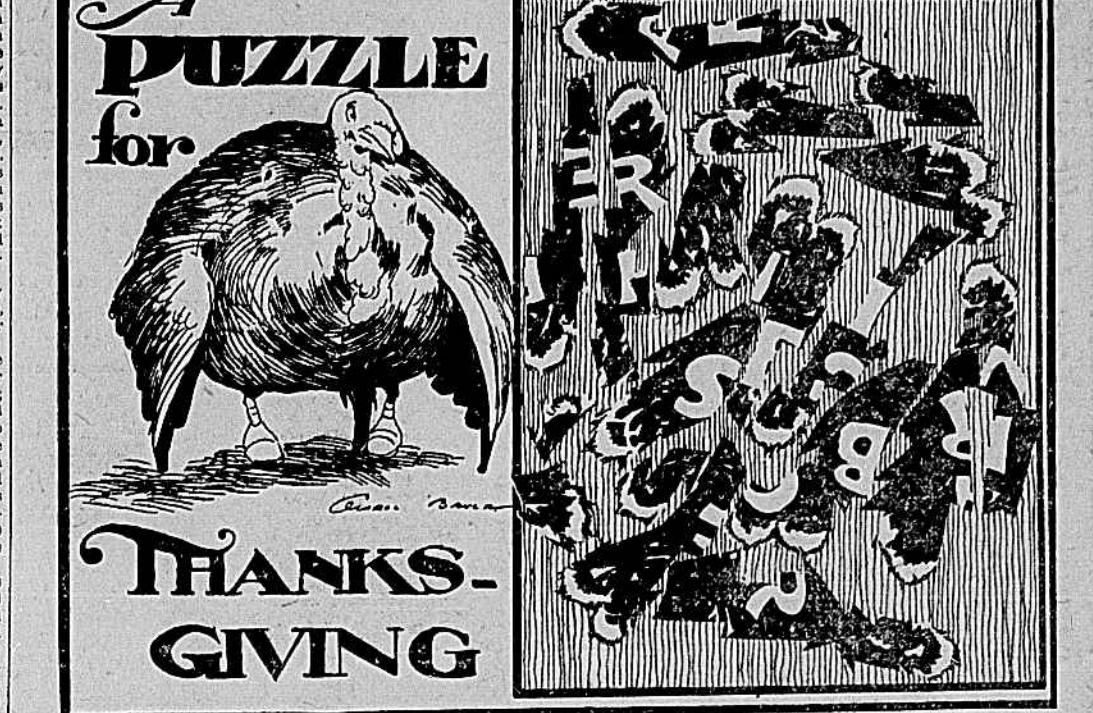

I saw your ad. in the paper, and as I had tried everything I could hear of, I wrote you for a sample, and it helped me so much from the very first dose that I bought a bottle from our druggist. I am now on my second bottle, and will say it has done me more good than all the doctors and all the other remedies I have ever tried. I am now 60 years old, and have suffered with constipation and stomach trouble for several years, but have never found anything to give me the relief your Syrup Pepsin has. Before taking your medicine life was almost a burden to me. Now I feel like a 16-year-old boy. I take pleasure in recommending your remedy to any one suffering with stomach trouble and constipation.

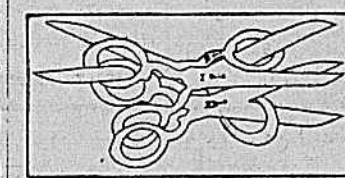

I received your sample of Syrup Pepsin and liked it all right. Am now buying of the druggist here. It is good in the cure of stomach trouble.—F. RHEAM, Seneca, Mo.

Here is a turkey gobble without a tail; cut out the small pieces to the right very carefully and arrange them so that they will form his tail. If you arrange them properly you will see the name of a dish always served with turkey.

will, as usual, be in a large majority, yet there will be a fair sprinkling of men who follow other vocations. Messrs. W. Bullitt Fitzhugh, of Northampton; A. H. Snyder, of Rockingham, and Harry R. Houston, of Elizabeth are editors. Messrs. Buck, of Washington, and Love, of Lunenburg, ministers, and Messrs. Dunn, of Albemarle; Myers, of Amherst; Noland, of Loudoun, and Stephenson, of James City, medical doctors. There will, of course, be many merchants, and men engaged in other lines of business in the Tenth District.
